		Integration Study (58-37-60)			*July 5, 2019, Comments: "...the SCSBA recommends that this Commission initiate an integration study after this Commission has issued a final order in the avoided cost proceeding, and that it not consider an utility proposal for an integration charge prior to the completion of that study."
		Additional Comments:		*July 3, 2019 Comments: Numerous issues should be consolidated for judicial economy	*July 3, 2019 Comments: Nucor is a large industrial customer of DEP		*Does not currently intend to propose a procedural schedule	*July 5, 2019 Comments: DEP and DEC respectfully request that Docket No. 2019-176-E be administratively closed	*July 5, 2019 Comments: DESC asserts that establishing a consolidated procedural schedule in Docket No. 2019-176-E is both unnecessary and unwarranted and, if granted, would only serve to create confusion and unduly burden the limited administrative resources of the Commission and the parties	*July 5, 2019 Comments: SELC anticipates representing Conservation groups such as the SC Coastal Conservation League, Southern Alliance for Clean Energy, and Upstate Forever	*Vote Solar supports the procedural recommendations of the SBA, generally
				*The Commission shall first establish the methodology for each utility (June 25, 2019 Filing: e.g. seasonal allocation of capacity needs and costs, methodologies for projection of fuel costs as they relate to avoided energy cost, environmental cost avoided by individual or aggregated QFs)	*Proposes the Commission address the issues in these cases in utility-specific dockets because utility-specific proceedings would better allow the parties and the Commission to consider each utility's Avoided Cost proposal in light of the facts and circumstances unique to each utility		*ORS intends to work with the other parties, as well as the Commission Staff, in establishing schedules which are acceptable to all	*June 20, 2019 Comments: "Accordingly, it would be wholly improper for the Commission to adjudicate these issues without an opportunity for discovery, testimony, or an evidentiary hearing."		*SELC supports the procedural schedule recommended by SC SBA and JDA
				*Then utilities make Avoided Cost filings - the Act requires the methodology for each utility to be set with input guidelines and transparency before Hearings on the actual rate	*July 3, 2019 Comments: Nucor's only concern is with DEP's proposal			*July 5, 2019 Comments: For purposes of judicial economy and efficiency, the Companies have recommended the Dockets assigned to DEC and DEP be consolidated.

Additional Comments:		*Adequate time for intervention and discovery per state's policy of encouraging renewable energy.		*SC SBA opines the Commission should establish a procedural schedule for late 2019 or early 2020, which would provide enough time for the Commission to issue an order clarifying IRP requirements and for electrical utilities to subsequently file IRPs in compliance with those requirements prior to the end of 2020.	*Each electric utility file an updated Integrated Resource Plan to be approved by the Commission as outlined by S.C. Code Ann Section 58-37-40(A), beginning in 2020, which meets the new requirements as outlined by 58-37-40(B)(1)	*If the Commission desires to implement additional rules regarding IRPs such rules should be adopted pursuant to a rulemaking proceeding		*Ideally establish a schedule that completes the generic docket in the first half of 2020, such that jurisdictional utilities can file IRPs in accordance with their plans and [Dominion Merger] settlement requirements by late 2020.	*Vote Solar supports the procedural recommendations of the SBA, generally
		*JDA opines the Commission should establish a procedural schedule for late 2019 or early 2020, which would provide enough time for the Commission to issue an order clarifying IRP requirements and for electrical utilities to subsequently file IRPs in compliance with those requirements prior to the end of 2020.			*Establishing a uniform format that follows the updated Integrated Resource Plan requirements as related to Section 58-37-40(B)(1) to be used by all electric utilities	*No rulemaking is required under Act 62 and it is premature to require one before the utilities are allowed to file IRPs in compliance with Act 62		*There should be a significant opportunity for interested party input to the utilities and Commission.
					*Each electric utility file an Integrated Resource Plan in a separate Docket staggered throughout 2020 for Commission approval

Additional Comments:							*The Commission should Administratively close Docket No. 2019-180-E	*The Commission should Administratively close Docket No. 2019-180-E	*While not urgent, SELC asks that the Commission establish a procedural schedule that allows for intervention and comments or testimony in the community solar proceedings, particularly related to any newly proposed programs. The Commission may also consider whether a hearing is warranted if requested by the parties in the proceeding once any new programs are filed and reviewed.	*Vote Solar supports the procedural recommendations of the SBA, generally

	Additional Comments:				*July 5, 2019 Comments: "The SCSBA recommends that this Commission establish a consolidated proceeding in which to review and consider any necessary amendments to the interconnection procedures applicable to electrical utilities, but that the procedural schedule in that docket not include any substantive milestones until 2020. "			*July 5, 2019, Comments: "Action in this docket for review of interconnection standards does not need to occur any earlier than 2020. In order to ensure that the standards are designed to address issues with the interconnection queue, the Commission should first issue a final order addressing the issues in Docket No. 2019-184-E and establish the avoided cost rate for DESC before taking any action regarding interconnection standards."	*SELC does not have any comments related to the Interconnection proceedings at this time, other than requesting the opportunity for interested parties to participate, as in other proceedings.	*Vote Solar supports the procedural recommendations of the SBA, generally
					*July 5, 2019, Comments: "In addition, Duke Energy, SCSBA, and other stakeholders are engaged in discussions regarding potential reforms to the interconnection process in Duke's service territories, which could result in a joint proposal for queue reform."

Additional Comments:							*July 5, 2019, Comments: "No immediate further action is required by Act 62. DEC/DEP propose that Parties file with the Commission comments on a schedule and use of Technical Workshops proposed by Vote Solar by Dec. 2, 2019, for further Commission consideration and encourage interested parties to discuss and agree, if possible, on a schedule prior to the Dec. 2, 2019, filing."	*July 5, 2019, Comments: "Action in this docket for review of NEM and NEM Methodology need not occur prior to January 2021. Under Act 62, customers who apply for NEM prior to June 1, 2021, may continue NEM service as provided in Commission Order No. 2015-194 until May 31, 2029."	*July 5, 2019, Comments: "The net energy metering proceeding is not as time-sensitive as some of the other Act 62 proceedings, given that new rates will not go into effect until June 1, 2021. SELC supports an opportunity for stakeholder engagement and collaboration, such as the procedure outlined by Vote Solar in its July 3, 2019, filing in these proceedings. This kind of stakeholder process could be conducted informally by the parties before the initial testimony deadlines. SELC agrees with other interested parties that the deadlines for this proceeding may be set in late 2020 and early 2021."
